Anti-Slavery & Human Rights Statement

Modern slavery is a violation of fundamental human rights and a crime. Human slavery takes many forms including, forced labour, trafficking and servitude, which have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another to exploit them for financial or personal gain.

Human rights are the inherent rights of all people to live and speak freely, equally, with dignity and with out fear.

Reedman Services Ltd have a zero tolerance approach to human rights violations and modern slavery and are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business activities and relationships, to implement effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place in our own business and within our supply chain.

We are committed to ensuring transparency in our won business and in our approach to Tackling modern slavery throughout our supply chains consistent with our obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

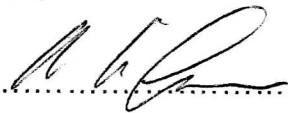

We expect the same standards from our suppliers, sub-contractors and business partners in prohibiting the use of forced, trafficked or compulsory labour or anyone held whether adult or child in slavery or servitude and expect our suppliers will hold their own suppliers to this same high standard.

This statement applies to all persons working for us or on our behalf in any capacity, including employees, directors, agency workers, sub contractors and all business partners.

The Directors of Reedman Services Ltd have overall responsibility to ensure that this statement complies with our legal and ethical obligations and that all those under our control comply accordingly.

This statement does not form part of any employees's contract of employment and can be amended at any time.
