

Quality Assurance Statement

It is the policy of Reedman Services to establish, implement and maintain a quality assurance system that identifies and satisfies the needs of their customers. The quality system is based on the requirements of the Achilles audit whilst ensuring safety of operation and meeting the company goals.

The following exclusions apply:

Section 1.2

Reedman services do not undertake Construction, Design and Management and do not have a company product related to this activity.

The company shall ensure that the management and staff are fully conversant with the quality objectives through ongoing training and education program.

When required by clients Reedman Services will adopted clients forms and systems where these are compatible with the requirements of Reedman's quality system.

Reedman Services is an equal opportunities employer and the quality system shall not have any conditions or requirements that disadvantage or discriminate against any employee.
